

The Mascot

Many classes are choosing a mascot...(Corduroy, Clifford, Curious George, or any stuffed animal).

It's nice if the mascot has a home, like a "cage" or a special shoe box to be carried home in. (A plastic tackle box is ideal.)

On the lid a note stating the name, purpose, and "please return tomorrow for another friend needs a turn" is essential.

The mascot and a notebook should then be placed in the box.

Each child has a "turn" to take home the mascot and dictate a story about what the child and the Mascot did together. Then write the date and sign.

Older children can write their own stories.
