

Parenting Manifesto Sample Template

A parenting manifesto can be thought of as a letter to your children describing what your personal hopes, dreams, and beliefs of success are for your child. It can include a description from you about how you will work as a parent to help this vision come to be. You can use the questions below to guide your writing or you can write from your heart without this template. Use the blank piece of paper and colorful writing tools to make your manifesto personal and meaningful.

- What do you want your children to know?
- What actions will you take as a parent to make this happen?
- What do you want your children to feel?
